Dear Colleagues

Please have a look at the special call below. Please feel free to share broadly within your network.

This could be interesting for a Japanese young researcher in biomechanics to visit a research group in Switzerland.

Hope all is well with you. Best. Ralph.

Subject: LH Asia: opportunity for Japanese doctoral students/postdocs to come to Switzerland

Dear Prof. Müller

I am approaching you with regards to your previous hosting of Japanese scholars in your research group. In collaboration with the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS), we have the long-standing programme between Switzerland and Japan for doctoral students and postdoctoral students to spend 3-6 months in the respective partner country to work on their research project with a research group or at a lab. Unfortunately, this year's call on the side of the JSPS has only resulted in one application of a Japan-based postdoc coming to Switzerland. Consequently, the Leading House Asia decided to open an unilateral call for Japan-based early-career researchers wishing to come to Switzerland in 2023. This is a one-time-only, special call under the terms of the Leading House Asia, hence doctoral students are invited to apply as well.

I wanted to kindly ask you if you can share our special call page with your contacts in Japan? This is greatly appreciated! Also, if you have another Japan-based contact that might be interested in joining your group in Autumn 2023 at the earliest, this is a great opportunity.

Best regards

Robin Anna Vital
